Applause for Fairbanks.

Applause for Fairbanks.

The applause for Senator Fairbanks appeared to be general.

Today's programme of the convention was not of a nature to attract more than ordinary interest. The matter of gicatest importance was the presenting to the convention of the proposition to admit the delegations from the Palliocae 1shands and Porte Rico. Mr. Rost asked for a ruling on the question of criling the names of the new possessions in the roil for the naming of members of the committees. The convention oracred the scating and recognition of six delegates from the Philippines, with two votes and two delegates from Porto Rico.

In the convention hall to-day there was one woman delegate who had the same right to vote that was held by earln accredited delegate. She was Mrs. Charles A. Eldridge, of Colorado Springs, Col., an alternate delegate whose principal was absent. Other women alternates of Colorado.

Ofter women alternates present Mrs. Owen Lefovre, of Colorade; Susan West, of Idea, and Mrs. E. Nelson, of Ulah, these States woman's suffrage.

to be done to accomplish effective regulation. The principles upon which the two vernment proceeded were stated by the President in his message of December, 1962.

After long consideration Congress massed three practical statutes: on the 11th of Frebruary, 1963, an act to expedite hearings in suits in enforcement of the autismst text on the 14th of February, 1963, the auticreast and Labor with a Bureau of Compared and Labor with a Bureau of Compared and Labor with a Bureau of Systematic information regarding the organization and operation of corporations, juving authority to secure systematic information regarding the organization and operation of corporations, engaged in interstate commerce and on the 19th of February, 1963, an act enlarging the powers of the interstate Commune Commission and of the courts, to deal with secret rebates in transportation charges, which are the chief means by which the trusts orush out their smaller competitors.

The Attorney-General has gone on in the same practical way, not to tak about the trusts by law for their regulation. In separate suits fourteen of the great railroads of the contry have been restrained by injunction from giving illegal rebates to the favored shippers, who by means of them were driving out the smaller stand monopolizing the grain and mean business of the country. The beef trust, was put under thinged in the cotton carrying pool, affecting a link of the country of the February which in the officers of the railroads engaged in the cotton carrying pool, affecting a link of trade and favored with the smaller shade of the competition in the Northern Securities Company, which is the country and brought to a speedy and affective conclusion in the Supreme Court under the act of February 11, 1963. The Attorney-General says:

"Here, then, are four phases of the attack on the combination in the Northern Securities case. The first relates to the monopoly produced by secure and preferential rates for railroad transportation; the second to railroad traffic pooling; the

The tariff plank as finally agreed upon after an especially strong reiteration of the Republican policy of protection, announces a willingness to change the schedules "whenever business demand the change," but the opinion is expressed that all changes should be along protection lines.

The original draft of the platform contained no reference to the question of polygamy and at a late hour the question had not been taken up by the committee. Senator Smoot, who has been giving close attention to the matter says that there will be no utterance whatever concerning it.

Just before midnight a member from the subcommittee said an agreement had been reached on the tariff plank and that there would be no minority reports by any member of the subcommittee. He said the declaration for protection was emphatic, but promised revision when necessary.

A TRAGIC AND SUDDEN DEATH

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., June 21.—The tragic and sudden death in the Guilford Hotel here to-night of John W. Morrissey, of Winston, shocked the large numbers of his friends among the delegates. Mr. Morrissey came down from Winston with a delegation this morning and had been suffering from excessive nervousness and pain from a crippied arm. After suppor he announced that he was going to bed early and try to get a good night's sleep for the work to-morrow. To get sleep and relief from pain he took by mistake an overdose of morphine. His heavy breathing was heard by a friend in an adjoining room. When discovered it was too late for physician's skill, and all efforts by several, who were (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) skill, and all efforts by several, who were immediately summoned, to save his life were fruitless, and he died in half an be remedied by further legislation, it should be done. The fact must be recognized, however, that all Federal legislation on this subject may fall short of its purpose because of inherent obstacles, and also because of the complex cheracter of our governmental system, which, while making Federal authority supreme within its sphere, has carefully limited that sphere by metes and bounds that cannot be trunsgressed.

At every election, the regulation of trunsts had been the foot-ball of campaign oratory and the subject of many insincere declarations.

Our Republican administration has taken up the subject in a practical, sensible way as a business rather than a political question, saying what it really meant, and doing what lay at its hand to be done to accomplish effective regulation. The principles upon which the government proceeded were stated by the Presificant in his message of December, 1902.
